FOREWORD

Just as a stream slowly washes away the soil, so does time dim our memory. For this reason, we have gathered and prepared this material to refresh your memory in future years. As you turn the pages of this book, we hope that many recollections and reminiscences of your school iife will return to you.

We wish to thank the students, faculty, and all others without whose help this Annual could not have been published.

DEDICATION

We, of the class of '53, dedicate this Wahian to The American Way of Life. "Life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness" are ideals upon which our country and our future are founded. We look forward to a life of equal opportunity, uninhibited ambitions, and true justice which characterize the American way.

Our system of government, education, organization, and industry will preserve for us these "certain inalienable rights." Our school and its organizations teach us the fundamental principles by which we live. The manufacturing power protects our independence and our ability to progress with our own resources.

Our true democracy gives every man, regardless of heritage, an equal opportunity to earn a position in life relative to his ability.

Our generation will carry on the tradition of our forefathers, who founded this nation believing they could devise a better way of life.

Superintendent's Message

The Administration commends the members of this class for the completion of a worthy task. We are happy for you in your personal realization of the traditional American heritage of a high school graduation.

Education has a tremendous role to play in the future of America. The educator believes that our democracy will be perpetuated through education that is fitted to the abilities, interests, and needs of each person and of the society in which he lives.

The educator further believes that democracy will be strengthened by emphasis on teaching the individual how free America permits him to choose and plan his own goals, provides him increasing equality of opportunity to reach these goals, allows him to keep the rewards of his work, and matches these privileges with serious duties of citizenship.

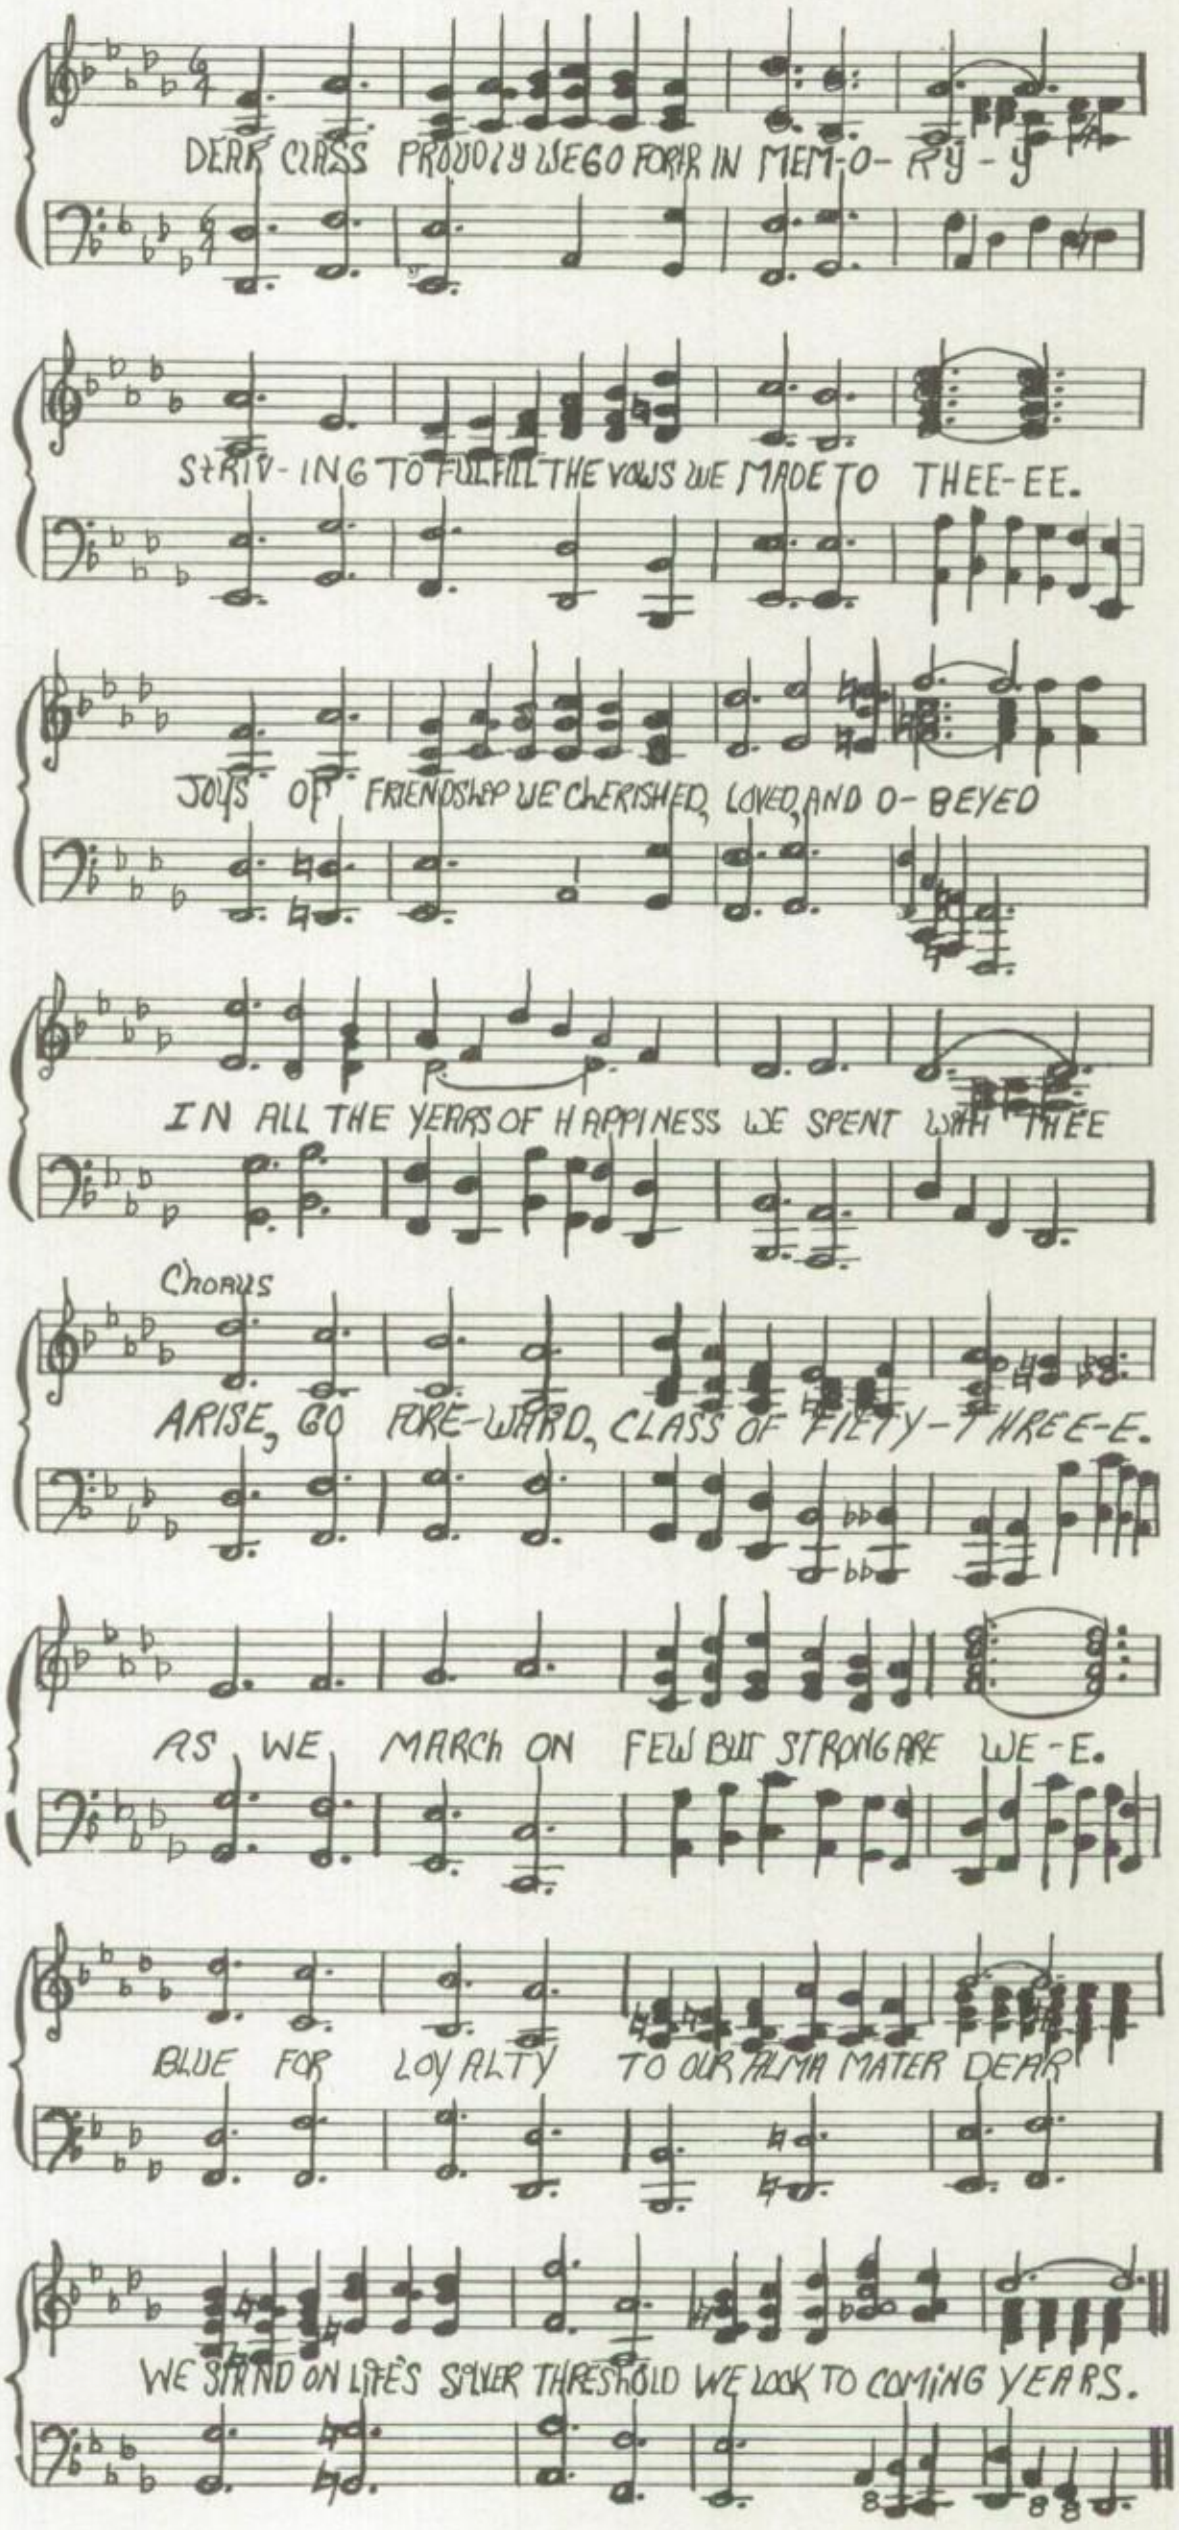
CLASS SONG

Words by Lovene Snowberger, JoAnne Watts, Mary Ann Sulzer, Elaine Reynolds.
From Crown Him King of Kings by Smith.



DEAR CLASS PROUDLY WE GO FORTH IN MEM-O-RY-Y
STRIV-ING TO FULFILL THE VOWS WE MADE TO THEE-EE.
JOYS OF FRIENDSHIP WE CHERISHED, LOVED, AND O-BEYED
IN ALL THE YEARS OF HAPPINESS WE SPENT WITH THEE
Chorus
ARISE, GO FORE-WARD, CLASS OF FIFTY-THREE-E.
AS WE MARCH ON FEW BUT STRONG ARE WE-E.
BLUE FOR LOYALTY TO OUR ALMA MATER DEAR
WE STAND ON LIFE'S SILVER THRESHOLD WE LOOK TO COMING YEARS.

Seniors Have A Proud History

As the class of 1953 gathers in the high school auditorium for commencement exercises, a colorful history is brought to an impressive close. For the first time the nucleus of our present class was received by the elementary schools just twelve years ago.

After five uneventful years we assembled as a potential group in sixth grade at Snider Avenue. The changing of classes confused us, but soon we adjusted ourselves to this new procedure.

Junior High School at last! Here we found many varied interests such as home economics, shop, assembly programs, and athletics. Under the tutelege of teachers new to us and in different surroundings, we glided rapidly through our elementary education.

Freshman! How important that word sounded! The last section of our schooling was beginning. After a heated and much publicized election campaign, Ronnie Kauffman was chosen president; Dean Trostle, vice-president; Laura Kremb, secretary; and Ann Kissinger, treasurer. For our first activity as an organized class we held our Freshman Dance and voted for Who's Who. Climaxing our year we received awards and were formally graduated from Junior High School.

Then, after much anxiety, we reached Senior High School. Despite being trampled over by upperclassmen, we felt mighty important with our long lockers and combination locks. Our athletic-minded boys went all-out for sports. Dave Stottlemyer, Charlie Washington, Bunk Geesaman, Ronnie Kauffman, Barry Martin, and Joe Dunne gained valuable experience on the football squad while Barry Martin, Eugene Richardson, Pat Wolff, Joe Dunne, Bunk Geesaman, Alan Van Sant, David Stottlemyer, Charlie Washington, Melvin Cummins, and Ronnie Kauffman played on Larry Palmer's Little Tornadoes. In the feminine section Doris Leaman, Nancy Martz, Janet Jones, and Shirley Ullman played their first season on the Zephyrs' team.

Under the leadership of Earl Mentzer, president; Ronnie Kauffman, vice-president; Ann Kissinger, secretary; and James Wolff, treasurer; the class presented as its first project three one-act plays entitled "Not Quite Perfect", "The Greener Grass", and "There Comes a Time", under the direction of John E. Minnich. Needless to say the project was a monetary success.

In our junior year we had class members on all the Varsity squads. Jim Stoops, Bunk Geesaman, Joe Dunne, Barry Martin, Charlie Myers, Charlie Washington, Ronnie Kauffman, and Dean Trostle directed their able assistance to our spirited, but oft-defeated football squad. Charlie Washington and Lynn Snyder played on a successful Tornado quintet which represented our school in the District III class B playoffs. Patsy Ambrose and Joyce Grove were added to the Zephyrs' squad whose "undefeated season" goal was smashed by a loss to the Hagerstown Hubetts.

After a mild election campaign, Earl Mentzer, Ronnie Kauffman, Joyce Grove, and Robert Schildt emerged to fill the posts of president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively. As a class, we selected the white carnation for our flower, blue and silver for our colors, "Few But Strong" for our motto, and an efficient committee to compose our class song.

Again our class project consisted of three one-act plays under the direction of Mr. Minnich. "Reciprocity", "Pot Luck", and "Charge It Please", were the titles and in concordence with the previous work of the class, they were a huge success. With the proceeds we sponsored the annual Junior-Senior Prom in honor of the Seniors. The decorating committee chose a candyland theme and decorated the gym with lollypops, candy gardens, and gumdrop trees. Walt Sheldon and his orchestra furnished the music.

Entering the halls of Senior High School for the last year of our school life, we proudly accepted our role as seniors. Football season rolled around and although success was not in our favor, Joe Dunne, Jim Stoops, Charlie Washington, Bunk Geesaman, and Dean Trostle supported the highest traditions of our football program.

Then came basketball season, with Charlie Washington, Ronnie Kauffman, and Pat Wolff as the big guns on the Tornado five. Plagued by the loss of several senior players, the Zephyrs' hope of an undefeated season was again destroyed by a single loss.

For the third year Earl Mentzer was chosen to lead us, assisted by Lynn Watson, Wilma Sease, and Robert Schildt.

Mary Ann Sulzer edited the Blue and Gold this year and to the astonishment of many it never missed a deadline. Alan Van Sant was editor of the Wahian with Doris Leaman acting as assistant editor and Dick Hoover acting as business manager. Nancy Omwake was president of the Tri-Hi-Y Club and Jeri Adams headed Dramatics Club. Joyce Grove was president of the Tau Kappa Phi Sorority and the Library Club was under the leadership of Susie Ricker.

Before we realized it we were posing for senior pictures and ordering our announcements and name cards. This was the beginning of the end.

"Men Are Like Streetcars", starring Pat Rinehart, with a fine supporting cast, was the title of our class play. This hilarious comedy, enjoyed as much by the cast as by the audience, boosted greatly the coffers of the class treasury.

Days flew by and suddenly we were dressing for the Prom . . . then the Senior Dance . . . then Baccalureate . . . and finally the Senior Banquet. Before we could catch our breath, Commencement night was here.

So, here we are, all together in the auditorium for the last time. When we leave, the fact that we are no longer seniors, but alumni, will have a definite saddening effect on us.

Although we are leaving, the class of 1953 has had a proud history and regardless of our future undertakings, we will remember with pride our school years and endeavor to be a credit to our Alma Mater.

Roving Reporter Covers Class Reunion

Good evening, ladies and gentlemen. This is your roving reporter here at the Grand Ballroom in the Waldorf Astoria Hotel. Today has been the Fifteenth Annual Reunion of the Class of 1953. Through the course of the day, I met many graduates and tonight I will try to review for you some of the important people attending the Grand Ball.

Now that the orchestra has started to play, people are moving about more. By the way, that is Dick Miller's orchestra. Eugene Richardson has just bought Tommy Dorsey's orchestra; however, he couldn't be with us tonight because of his cross-country tour.

Standing away from the crowd is a group of engineers. Joe Dunne and Dean Trostle, who have drawn plans for a proposed Trans-Atlantic bridge, have named Nick Papoutsis and Ronnie Kauffman as Chief Engineers.

Audrey Pike and Lovene Snowberger have just arrived. They have been living in New York where they are coaching Nelson Eddy and Lili Pons at the Metropolitan Opera.

To celebrate this reunion, Jerry Sterling and Jeri Adams flew a record-breaking, non-stop flight around the world in one of Lee Bain's newest jet models.

Carolyn Frantz and Shirley Fix, commercial artists at Sach's Fifth Avenue, have decorated parts of the Ballroom with pictures depicting scenes from Bob Schildt's latest Broadway smash hit.

I see Doris Leaman has just arrived. As president of the Tool Company, Doris has brought her private secretary, Nancy Martz, with her as she is attending an industrial convention here in New York. Donald Wilhide is also attending the convention. He is the manager of the Waynesboro Knitting Company because of his invention of a new way of knitting.

Several members of the class have left their work at the National Medical Center to attend the reunion. Alan Van Sant and Hilton Manuel, two prominent Philadelphia doctors, are assisting Dr. Charles Washington, noted surgeon, in a research program. Three nurses also assisting in the work are Betsy Smith, Lola Songer, and Annabelle Snyder.

Richard Hoover, chief sports reporter for the New York Times, has been covering the convention. Right now he is snapping a shot of Lorena Trace and David Stottlemyer, who have just returned from Egypt on a tour of the pyramids for data in their latest history text.

While walking across the dance floor, I noticed a small group in a serious conversation. As I get closer I see they are Donna Ramm, Professor of Biology at Gettysburg College and owner of the wild life sanctuary at Cowan's Gap, Hans Francke, noted Professor at Munich, Earl Mentzer, Professor of Business Administration of Yale University, and Pat Wolff, freshman at Bucknell where he is majoring in Spanish.

Joyce Grove and Shirley Ullman have been coaching the Globe Trotters on their world-wide tour. They recently met Mary Ann Sulzer in Mexico where she is chief interpreter for the U. N.

Near the bandstand Charles Myers and Melvin Cummins are having a heated argument over the World Series. They will be competing against each other in the near future.

On a signboard on the back of the Ballroom there is a large picture of Patsy Billerbeck, who, after finally obtaining her driver's license, is being featured in the Daredevil Show at Williams Grove. The show is being sponsored by Bill Miller, owner of the largest dairy in the state.

Nancy Breidenthal, chief accountant at the Machine Company, with Nancy Omwake and Esther Myers, her secretaries, has just arrived, late as usual.

The orchestra is now playing the 1953 Class Song as a grand finale, and each one is returning to further the success of the Class.

Best of luck to a swell guy. I hope we can get an intelligent Spanish teacher next year, don't you. We had a great time in there though.

Bob

Junior Jottings

We entered school this year with an air of confidence that had been lacking in our previous years, because finally we could actually consider ourselves upperclassmen. We were the Juniors and we were going to make things tick.

To begin with, naturally, we needed someone to shoulder our many responsibilities. The election returns told us very clearly who our leaders were to be. Bob McFerren was our "Boss Man" and he was to be assisted by Charles Ruppert, vice-president; Lois Barkdoll, secretary; and Jean Ringer, treasurer.

The next thing we had to think about was our money-making project. So, with the untiring efforts of Mr. John Minnich, we presented three one-act plays, "Once Upon a Prom Night," "No Television Tonight," and "Who Used Father's Charge Account."

Very soon we ordered our class rings and began to realize how short a time it would be until we would be Seniors.

The last and final step we Juniors will take will be to sponsor the Prom. We have already engaged our orchestra, and many secret plans for decorations have been whispered into eager ears. We're planning on having the best Prom ever, but, nevertheless, our fingers are crossed.

It seems almost unbelievable that we will be the Senior class of 1954.

Sophomore Signposts

Reigning as sophomores we were not so lowly as the down-trodden freshmen we had previously been, and the upperclassmen looked less sceptically and more tolerantly upon us.

The high school building itself was no longer aloof and unfriendly.

School jackets in our school colors were long desired, but it remained for the sophomores to fulfill all the expectations. It was not as a class project that we sold them, but only to benefit the students of W. H. S. Our capable officers: Franklin Woodring, president; Lee Niedentohl, vice president; Barbara Hanna, secretary; and Nancy Kriner, treasurer, handled this task efficiently.

All activities and organizations benefited greatly by our membership, and we gave spirited support to our fellow classmates who were active participants in athletics.

The three one-act plays presented on May 14 were entitled "The Roman Kid", "Thursday At Home", and "Wanted—A Pretty Girl."

Less hard work and more fun composed the basic elements of this school year.

Perhaps our prediction as freshmen is slowly but surely appearing to be authentic.

Freshmen Feats

When school opened in the fall of 1952, one hundred fifty Freshmen of the class of 1956 were doubtful and in question as to just what went on within the walls of W.H.S. We must have seemed awkward the first few weeks until we became accustomed to the different procedures. Finally, however, we got well acquainted with out new surroundings.

We welcomed some newcomers to our class from Mont Alto and tried to make those who had just moved to Waynesboro feel at ease.

Our first move as a class was to choose officers. We elected Donald Mort, president; Wayne Kline, vice-president; Julia Snyder, secretary; and Joe Steiner, treasurer.

Through our efforts in the magazine drive and a movie shown to the students, we raised sufficient funds for the "Frosh Dance" held early in May.

We contributed greatly to the Band, Choral Club, and other extra-curricular activities. In athletics we had our glorious moments as well as our disappointing downfalls, however, our classmates supported our team faithfully regardless of circumstances.

The class of 1956 is looking forward to a successful future at W.H.S.

When the press is free and every man is able to read, all is safe

The school newspaper is an essential part of high school life, giving everyone an opportunity to know the latest happenings. Every student likes to be well informed about school news, and a newspaper gives them just that chance.

Each month the "Blue and Gold" brings students reports of the activities in school, bits of gossip, sports events, cartoons, and jokes. Each of the articles is written by a certain department. The write-ups on plays, assemblies, and organizations are given to the news staff. The feature staff writes the gossip and draws the cartoons. The football games and other athletic events are described by the sports department.

The reporters of these three staffs, together with the editors, have set as their goal the publication of seven issues and have distinguished themselves by never failing to meet the deadline on the third Friday of the month.

With malice toward none; with charity for all

The purpose of Tri-Hi-Y is to develop Christian living and high standards throughout the school and the community.

Open to all girls, the club operates under the advice of Miss Ethel Morter and meets once a month at the "Y".

In October Susie Ricker and Anne Kissinger represented Waynesboro at a Tri-Hi-Y convention at Lebanon.

Activities included giving baskets to the needy at Thanksgiving and gifts to an orphanage at Christmas.

This year the girls participated in the Teen-Age Lenten Services that were held at the Presbyterian Church each Wednesday and helped pay for the picture "The Pilgrimage Play" that was shown to the students during Lent.

Charity is a virtue of the heart, and not of the hands

The Hi-Y helps its younger men build a better body, mind, and character in order to develop a more Christian community.

Together with Tri-Hi-Y, they held a joint installation service, filled Christmas baskets, sponsored the mid-week Lenten services, and a religious movie. The boys also participated in intramural basketball and in January held a dance at the "Y".

Meeting twice a month with Rev. Bitner to guide them, the Hi-Y endeavors to strengthen the moral and ethical standards of our community.

Art is a path of the creator to his work

Meeting every Tuesday and Thursday in activity period members of Art Club use water color, oil, chalk, and charcoal in making signs and posters.

Activities of the Art Club included painting scenery at Christmas and making posters for plays. The members entered posters in a health contest and made projects for the Spring Exhibit.

Under the capable leadership of Mrs. Huston, the young artists find an outlet for displaying their artistic ability.

Woe be to him that reads but one book

Under the able instruction of Miss Lowry, the members of the Library Club are always ready to help students find the appropriate book for reference or enjoyment. When Miss Lowry travels to Junior High two days a week, these thirty-two girls assume the responsibility of head librarian.

Although one may not wish to enter library work as an occupation this activity provides interest and valuable information.

The whole of government consists in the art of being honest

If it is clearing the halls between classes or preparing a student handbook, Student Council is called upon to do the job. This group consisiting of representatives from homerooms and various organizations meets every Wednesday in activity period under the guidance of Miss Mikesell.

Four representatives were sent to a state convention at Forty Fort. As projects, Student Council sponsored a tea for the students of each class, their parents, and faculty. They also are making a revision of the handbook and writing a constitution.

As a money-making project they made and sold chrysanthemums during football season. Through the homeroom chairmen, the Student Council collected money for the March of Dimes drive, Junior Red Cross, and TB bangle pins.

In all its activities, the Student Council has endeavored to promote a better understanding between teachers and students.

I would help others, out of a fellow-feeling

The Tau Kappa Phi sorority got its activities off to an early start by decorating the halls and the stadium during football season. As a climax of fall social events, the girls sponsored the Jack Frost Frolic, a semi-formal dance with music by Walt Sheldon's orchestra. Their next project was a Christmas party held at the "Y" for underprivileged children. With music furnished by the Velvetones, the girls also arranged for the dance following the basketball game with Chambersburg.

As a fund-raising project for the annual dinner honoring the senior members, the girls are planning for a food sale.

Promoting activities such as these develops a sense of responsibility, leadership, and cooperation which will prove valuable both now and in the future.

Here will we sit and let the sounds of music creep in our ears

Choral Club with a membership of over a hundred is our largest musical organization.

Meeting twice weekly under the direction of Miss Kadel, this organization combines with the Sacred Literature department in presenting a program at Christmas and Easter and in the Spring they present their annual concert.

In April, JoAnne Watts and Carolyn Frantz represented Waynesboro High School at District Chorus which was held at Shippensburg.

Whether it be a hymn, a folk tune, or a slow dreamy song, you can always be sure Choral Club will be ready to perform when the time comes.

Music is well said to be the speech of angels

The best voices of Choral Club are chosen to blend their talents in the Special Chorus.

With Miss Kadel as their director they always sing even the more difficult numbers with skill and grace.

They lend their singing to the Christmas and Easter Pageants, to the Spring concert, and to outside organizations in the community.

Music, the mosaic of the air

Will the bus be here to take us to Junior High today? This is the question asked by the many members of the band.

The band practiced on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday of each week to play for our football games. After football season its attention was turned to concert music.

Richard Miller, a senior, who plays an alto-saxophone, represented Waynesboro band at District Band held in Millersburg, Pennsylvania.

This year for the first time the entire band entered Southern District Forensic competition held in Hershey in March.

In observance of Pennsylvania Week, the Hershey band visited the local industries and was the guest of the Waynesboro band. As a highlight of the half-time entertainment at the football game that evening, the combined bands performed a precision drill representing the various industries of their respective communities.

Consisting of a membership of over eighty avid musicians, the band gives many performances throughout the year.

There's sure no passion in the human soul but finds its food in music

The fine music we enjoy at special assemblies, holiday events, and other occasions is the result of the diligent practices of the orchestra under the direction of Mr. Asher Edelman.

In February the orchestra was represented by Carol Merklinger and Patsy Shoop at the District Orchestra Festival held in Lancaster.

Interest in drama is not confined to the professional world but extends also to school life to provide entertainment and valuable learning.

This is also true in Waynesboro High School, for each Thursday a group of students meets in the auditorium to display its talent in the field of dramatics.

With Mr. John Minnich as the capable leader of these amateur thespians, they entertain the school throughout the year with short skits and plays.

Peppy Cheerleaders Encourage Team

The cheerleaders are certainly one of the most active groups in the school. Although it seems that they only have to lead the cheering section during the athletic contests, they have many other responsibilities; for it is these girls who sell season tickets, decorate the stadium, and stir up enthusiasm at our pep meetings.

Two peppy seniors, Nancy Miller and Nancy Breidenthal, share the responsibility of leadership.

With the encouragement of these ten girls, we were able to stand up and cheer even when the scoreboard was looking mighty discouraging.

Girls, we thank you.

Good Luck to a good? past.

Tornadoes Show Spirit

The Tornadomen under the direction of head coach Steve Suhey closed another season without a victory. Their stout hearts, conditioning, and training made them a constant threat to the leaders in the conference, despite their lack of size and depth of position.

A strong team from Martinsburg took the field for Waynesboro's opening game. The Bulldogs had complete control and when the gun sounded the score was 33-7, Martinsburg.

Waynesboro dropped its first conference game to a powerful team from Gettysburg by a score of 40-13.

Although coming back strong in the second half of the game with Hershey, outscoring them 12-7, Waynesboro lost the contest 28-12 because of a weak start.

Carlisle next visited School Stadium and again the Tornadoes dropped the game, this time by a score of 38-13.

The Mechanicsburg Wildcats took advantage of the weak spots in the Tornado pass defense and gained a 24-9 decision over the Suheymen.

The Tornadomen, played their best game of the year, against a strong Chambersburg team. Both teams appeared to be equally matched and a large part of the game was taken up in exchanging punts. In the last moments of the game the Trojans rushed over for the only score and the gun sounded giving Chambersburg a 6-0 victory.

Waynesboro dropped a 6-0 heart-breaker to the Shippensburg Greyhounds.

The season closed with a hard-fought contest with the Hanover Nighthawks, who edged the Tornadoes by a margin of 7-6.

The class of '53 wishes to congratulate the players and coaches for having so spirited a team represent our school.

Cyclones Have Tough Season

The Junior High School Cyclones closed their season with an unimpressive record of one victory and four losses. Their lone win came as a climax of a hard fought-battle with Boiling Springs.

The boys, under the direction of coaches, Gottshall and Purnell, gained invaluable experience which may prove beneficial to the Tornadomen next year.

Little Tornadoes Gain Valuable Experience

The Junior Varsity began the season under the tutelage of ailing Coach Larry Palmer. Because of Mr. Palmer's ill health, the boys finished the season under Coach Suhey with a record of 3 wins and 15 losses.

Good luck next year from the Class of '53.

Basketball Five Meets Tough Opposition

The Waynesboro Tornadoes met stiff competition in the South Penn Conference, and, although the boys fought hard to win, they just couldn't seem to get moving.

The season opened against a highly-rated team from Mechanicsburg. Waynesboro won this first conference contest, but then went into a tailspin until they met Martinsburg, whom they defeated by a score of 54-52.

The season closed with a record of two wins and seventeen losses.

Losing only five members of the squad this spring, Coach Martz feels that Waynesboro will have a stronger team next season.

Tornadoes Have Fair Season

The Blue and Gold Tornadoes closed the 1952 baseball season with a record of 5 wins and 7 losses.

The team got off to a bad start, but under the able direction of coach Lewis Purnell they came back strong to win three of their last four games.

The boys played a hard, fast brand of ball during the entire season and we feel sure that the experience gained by this team will make Waynesboro's entry in the league a stronger threat this year.

The class of '53 wishes this year's team good luck in its competition.

Zephyrs Have Another Good Season

The Waynesboro Zephyrs closed another season with an excellent record of six wins, one loss, and one tie.

The girls, under the able coaching of Mrs. Geiser, played a spirited brand of basketball throughout the season. This organization can always be counted upon to have a high percentage of wins.

The class of '53 is proud of the Zephyrs and wishes them good luck in coming seasons.

Golf Team Represented in State Play-offs

Waynesboro organized a golf team last year under the direction of coach John Hoffman.

They played one match against Mercersburg Academy and won by a score of 12 1/2 to 2 1/2.

Two of the boys, Alan Van Sant and Bill Wallace, entered the State Play-offs at Hershey.

In order to cut expenses the School Board dropped this activity from the sports program.

"Men Are Like Streetcars" Scores a Hit

Box office receipts and applause of the audience determined the success of our production. Many comical incidents made the cast also feel that the play was a big hit.

Expensive modern furniture and an unsteady false ceiling caused the cast to move about with great care during the rehearsals.

You'll have to ask Earl Mentzer why his face was slightly red during the third act on the first night.

I wonder why Joyce Grove's tea cup was rattling? Could it be that the tea was nervous.

Donna Ramm saved the cast's nerves (and the production) with her little bottle of pink nerve pills.

An accurate response from the audience was recorded by means of a "laugh-meter" back stage.

As the curtain closed on the production of "Men Are Like Streetcars" we knew that our efforts had been rewarded.

How Washington Got Its Name

Once upon a time in the far land of notgnihsaW, C. D. lived a King, who raised an awful Fuss because his Leaman, Miller, Palmer, and black*Smith* destroyed his Ullman Grove and took all his Sterling silver. Unfortunately nothing was done about it until one day a Newcomer came to town to try to Fix things But the King could not Stoop's so low as to let a Newcomer attempt to settle the Rowe. He called for his Songer to bring in his Manuel. In the Manuel he found that the best method for retaining peace in his *King*dom was to let loose a Wolfe and a Ramm so that they could Turner away these wicked men. Soon the disorder Seased and the King decided to divide his land into several Angles. Little did the King know that in time the history of Washington D. C. could be Traced back to the ancient *King*dom of notgnihsaW.

Laugh Awhile

A girl was reading about birth and death statistics. Suddenly she turned to a man near her and said,

"Do you know that everytime I breathe a man dies?"

"Very interesting," he returned. Why don't you try Sen-Sen?"

Donna Ramm's watch stopped ticking and she tried to find the trouble. Finally she took the back off it, went into the works, and found a dead bug. "No wonder it doesn't work," she said, "the engineer's dead."

"The true citizen of America will remember that loyalty to our tradition of civil liberty is as much a part of patriotism as defense of our shores and a hatred for treason.

You do not and cannot strengthen democracy by undermining it. And you begin to undermine democracy the moment you begin to draw the line and say that this or that person or group shall not have civil liberty. Draw the line against one group, and it is an easy step to draw it against another and another.

There is no room for intolerence in the America that our fathers planned."

GREETINGS TO THE CLASS OF '53

YOU graduates now have many problems to decide as to your future lives.

YOU are asking yourself the question: What am I best fitted for? Do I want to enter some profession? Do I want to go into business? Or do I want to associate myself with our local industries and grow up with them?

YOU will find many opportunities with regular employment in our local plants, which furnish further training courses to those who are ambitious and want to get ahead here at home.

We hope you decide to build your future here in WAYNESBORO.

John
Well here we are at last. only a couple of mo. we will be at the top of the ladder. Senior year. It's been a long it. We have had classes but I can't remember a lot of fun we have had. Before we can have as much next time. You've got to study. Remember I'll forgive me a pretty rough year. You've got three more of me. Spanish class and the rest of the time I can't remember. Hatchell was a real bear. Miss Hatchell. You'll be a good boy over the summer. Be a good boy and study. You'll have to get to work next year. Rosalie

John,
Here's hoping we get in the same home room next year. Believe me, it's been fun. Take it easy over the summer so you'll be rested up for our Senior year.

John,
I hope the King size rat bites you again, no I don't really. I hope you have the very best of luck always. Really your one of the nicest boys I've ever met. Be Good "Babs" '53

Dear John,
Good luck, have a swell summer, see you next year & hope I'm in your homeroom. Enjoy your last year & try to behave yourself. Don't get into any trouble. Be a good boy & study hard. Don't forget to write during the summer. Sally

Remember our spanish classes and that student teacher-war.
Be good to yourself and I hope you have lots of fun in your future years.
